CIRCULAR

It has come to notice that critically ill patient being carried in an Ambulance to one referral hospital is being diverted to another hospital, especially heart patient, due to want of bed, which delays the treatment of the patient and may result in worsening of the condition.

It is directed that doctors of PPT Hospital in consultation with the relatives of the patient should ensure that bed is available for such patient before referring to a particular hospital.

Emergency Medical Technicians carrying the patient to such referral hospital should also ensure that bed is available there. Further, in case of worsening of the condition of a patient, the Emergency Medical Technician should appraise the condition of the patient to his/her relatives and take the patient to a nearby hospital (Government or empanelled private hospital) having cardiac facility or emergency care facility to save life.
